Florida Master Naturalist Program
Oct. 28 & Nov. 4, 12, 18 & Dec. 2, 9, 2015

The Florida Master Naturalist Program (FMNP) is a statewide program developed by the University of Florida/IFAS. It requires 40 educational hours for all students. FMNP targets adults interested in learning about Florida's natural ecosystems and conservation issues. The FMNP is an excellent class for Florida's residents, volunteers and professionals interested in improving their environmental knowledge.

In this Freshwater Systems class, you will learn about the native and exotic flora and fauna in Florida's fragile wetland ecosystems including marshes, swamps, rivers and lakes.

Field Trips Include:
- Short hike at Stormwater Treatment Area Marsh
- Short hike on Cypress Swamp boardwalk
- Kissimmee River via pontoon boat
- Lake exploration

Classes are from 8:30 am—5:00 pm
Wednesdays for 6 weeks.
Registration for this course closes on October 16, 2015 & space is limited
You must register online: www.MasterNaturalist.org
